TEMPLE MENORAH BEGINS BUILDING FUND DRIVE

Mrs. Anna Grancell, prominent community and Temple leader, will be honorary general chairman of the Building Fund Drive for Temple Menorah of Redondo Beach. The drive, which started effective January 13, has an ultimate goal of $250,000; the present program aim is to raise $75,000 to cover the costs of building Religious School classrooms and a social hall, which will also be used as a sanctuary until such time as the second part of the program is completed.

Under the leadership of Rabbi Henri E. Front, the past year has seen the congregation grow and progress to the point where the religious school and present structure of the temple are entirely inadequate.

On Saturday evening, a temple dinner was served at the Hollywood Riviera club, free to the members and friends of the Temple. This dinner was an educational and inspirational affair. This was the largest dinner gathering in the temple history. The temple now has 152 member families.

Committee chairman working on the drive are as follows: Matthew J. Ellenhorn, M. D., initial gifts chairman; Charles Davis, special gifts chairman; Al Levitt, teams chairman; Mark Bennett, canvas committee chairman; arrangements chairman for the dinner, Mrs. Jack Belford; Mrs. Ben Kaufman, hostess chairman. Team captains are Bert Shupps, Seymour Uberman, David Brandwein and Hy Friedman. Total canvas committee will include about 65 men and women. The program will be a three year one. Solicitations on this present drive will be completed by February 3, and that evening a "Victory Snack" will be held to celebrate having gone over the goal.

Fashion Fun

By MAUDE MILLER

We've just interviewed the amazing woman who puts the "Zolot touch" in the fabulous sportswear line, "Zolot of California." Tiny rounded figure, laughing face and snapping eyes... Esther Zolot is an unbelievable seventy-four with an unquenchable vigor and zest for life. And the handsome clothes she designs all show it!

The "zip" that characterizes "Zolot" clothes is the result of her sure understanding of what the right "line" will do for a woman. Even as a girl of fourteen in Europe, making dolls and dolls clothing for children, teaching others to sew and create, taking her older sister's dresses and "recreating" them... Esther Zolot had a passion for stripping off unnecessary detail and a genius for fashioning simple but beautiful outfits.

She says happily, "If you don't create, you're mentally poor. Wherever I go, I look at the structure of a person's body and think what would look well on it. I've never had formal training, but even as a girl I knew when an extra bow, or a shiny button or he flare of a skirt was wrong... and I had to fix it!"

Mrs. Zolot approves heartily of the chemise look. With her usual insight, when questioned about this "new Look" she answered quickly, "When women want a change they'll take up something different... something daring. We were due for a change. For several years the skin tight look was correct. Now fashions have to look relaxed. Do women like it? Of course! That's because this year's fashion always draws the eye!"

Pictured are two of "Zolot's" This Year creations. Easy to wear, easy on the eye... they're the perfect expression of Esther Zolot's zest for life!

MOTHERS ON KRCA

More than 150 members of Nativity School Mothers Club and their guests gathered at Studio D, KRCA, on January 17 to participate in the humorous stunt program "It Could Be You." Stories were turned in by chairman Mrs. Andrew Janasik and her committee of "spies." But program officials, very adept in the art of surprise, turned the tables on Mrs. Janasik, featuring her in a skit which won for her a new washing machine.

Another of the mothers surprised, was "spy" Mrs. H. L. Loomis who was startled to find her own husband revealed on the stage wearing Scottish kilts! His companion in the skit was movie star Alan Young.

Mrs. Michael Strelch couldn't believe her eyes when pictures of her early childhood were flashed on the screen depicting her family's arrival in America from Yugoslavia. Various facets of her life were mentioned, bringing the audience up to the present day and her need of a new stove to replace one 19 years old. A shining new range, given her then and there, is now the brightest spot in her kitchen.

Mrs. Walter Cason came from the program with four cases of apples and an electric coffee maker for being an "ideal wife."

Most surprised of all was Mrs. J. W. Crew whose mother, Mrs. Allen Rush, was flown here from Amesbury, Massachusetts to appear on the show. It was the first time they had seen each other in six years and Mrs. Rush's first visit with her infant granddaughter, Carol Ann.

JUNIORS HAVE BRIDGE PARTY

Several members of the Torrance Junior Woman's club attended a diminishing bridge card party held for the benefit of the Woman's club on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Russell M. Clawson, 2909 El Dorado street.

Co-hostesses, Mrs. L. G. Louvier and Mrs. Clawson, served cake, coffee and tea at the close of the evening.

Those who attended were: Mmes. Douglas Horlander, George Winters, George Stevens, John P. Schwartz, D. E. Moore, Tom G. Halasey, Lee E. Allen, Robert Voien, W. R. Zappas, Niall Quinn, L. G. Louvier, and Russell M. Clawson.
